AVIS

VACCINATIONS
ANTI-CHOLERIQUES.

Etant donné le surpeuplement excessif de la Concession et les conditions douteuses dans lesquelles, malgré les efforts de tous, vivent un grand nombre de réfugiés, la population est instamment invitée á se faire inoculer contre le choléra.

Les vaccinations anti-cholériques sont faites tous les jours de 9 heures à 12 heures et de 14 heures à 17 heures:

1°)—au Dispensaire Municipal, 630, Rue Amiral Bayle.
2°)—à la Station Sanitaire, 830, Route de Zikawei.

Des équipes mobiles de vaccinations peuvent être envoyées à domicile à la condition que le nombre de personnes à vacciner dans un même endroit soit assez important.

Hospitality !

From the journal which advertizes "Come to Hongkong":—

Experience has proved time and again that by pampering refugees their morale seriously deteriorates....

But when it is remembered that the cost per head in an officers' mess in this Colony is half that which is being charged to the refugees, this fact naturally raises the query "Is the catering too lavish and/or too costly?"

"Now all you poor blighters, just listen to me,
When you've finished your bread and margarine tea.
Don't think that we grudge the food
that you eat,
Or the brew that you've guzzled
while we're standing treat:
Think not for a moment that some of you are
To be treated to things like black caviare.
"You're just poor refugees; the sooner you know it
Less food will you scoff, or in other words 'blow it.'
Excuse us if we, being perfectly
frank,
Ask you 'Please don't toss round
on that very soft plank,
Or wear out the windows by much looking through.'
Poor, dear refugees, we're referring to you.
"We don't try to be hard; for all that we do,—
The unkinder we are,—the better for you.
It's your morale we think of. Just hand back that ham,
And stop those small children
from wolfing the jam
Do we think you're expensive? The answer is yes.
You cost twice as much as the officers' mess."

The Post Office

Readers will be pleased to know that the reason why they have received so little mail during the last two weeks is in no way due to any breakdown in the postal system, but simply because the letters have not been delivered.

In Hongkong

From a refugee's letter:—

"Hongkong has lived up to its reputation for being sticky, for there was not one lady from any organization down to meet the boat to see if they could lend a hand."

CONVERSATION PIECE:—

I suppose, darling, you are going down to see the steamers come in?
Me? Whatever for?
To see all those refugees who have been evacuated from Shanghai.
Indeed no. I always think refugees are such a nasty class of people, if you understand what I mean.
Quate! But some of them might need assistance.
Oh, well! What have we a port doctor for? Take my advice, dearest, don't have anything to do with them. You might catch something, —or something.
But I believe some of them are quate naice people.
Impossible dear. Refugees can nevah be naice people. What was it you called: three spades.....?

Missing

Reading all the newspapers yesterday morning,—we have to,—we have discovered that out of the whole gamut of excuses the only one not used up to the present is:—"Please, we didn't know it was loaded."

This War Complex

Really, local sub-editors should be more careful. War is war, it is readily admitted, but why introduce it into more peaceful matters? Thus a heading yesterday:—

RADIO BROADCAST OF S.M.C. STRIKES OPTIMISTIC NOTE

We don't suppose it did anything of the sort. It probably sounded the note in question.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"DOMESTIC INTERLUDE"
Facility for Criticism

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—It is interesting to note that the correspondents who complain about your tone have been Chinese. Do they realise that none of the Chinese language papers would ever publish correspondence in criticism of themselves? Read the China Journal article on the Chinese Press in their last issue and the August "Esquire" and they will have a peep behind the scenes.

EC

Shanghai, Aug. 31.

A British View

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—Your leading article to-day entitled "Domestic Interlude" will probably be welcomed by your British readers, not only because it provides a clear explanation of the entirely reasonable attitude you have adopted in dealing with a difficult political situation, but also because it helps to dispose of some of those unfortunate misconceptions in Chinese minds which seem at times to threaten estrangement between Shanghai residents of Chinese and British nationality. I for one hope that many of your Chinese readers will read your leader and give its arguments the consideration they deserve.

Like many of my countrymen in Shanghai to-day I am completely in sympathy with China in the efforts she is now forced to make to resist Japanese aggression, but in all sincerity I would ask my Chinese friends not to allow their feelings of indignation to be so easily diverted into the wrong channels. I would ask them, for instance, to consider the following propositions.

1. In times of peace not only privately-owned newspapers but also governments, through their official spokesmen and other means of publicity, issue statements which vary in degree of truth from mere bias to complete falsehood. When war breaks out, and that in fact is the situation with which we in Shanghai have to deal to-day, all pretence at adherence to the truth may be abandoned if this is considered necessary for military reasons or in order to maintain the morale of the people. To ascertain the truth then becomes all the more difficult, but surely it is not reasonable to expect all publications, irrespective of their nationality, blindly to reproduce propagandist "news" or to give it a value which dispassionate examination shows clearly it does not deserve. As applied to the present situation in China this is equally true whether the source of the "news" is Chinese or Japanese. If your Chinese critics wish to be fair to you they should ascertain how much uncorroborated "news" from Japanese sources you have seen fit to withhold from publication.

2. In time of war it is not to be expected that all the news reports will be favourable to one's own side, and, if they are, there is good reason to exercise a critical judgment and ask oneself if the news is all true. General Chiang Kai-shek has done his country service in emphasizing the difficulties and dangers with which China is now beset, and no good purpose would now be scored by attempts to mislead the people by unduly optimistic news reports. Never, indeed, was there a time when it was more necessary for the leaders of Chinese opinion to be stark realists. If this is understood there will be less disposition to quarrel with the independent views and reports of a newspaper that has already made its position abundantly clear—and that not on the side of Japanese aggression.

BRITISH RESIDENT.

Shanghai, Aug. 31.

MAIL DELAYS
Official Assurance

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—From various sources, I have been given to understand that a section of the Shanghai Public (a small one, I hope) is under the impression that we hold here a large accumulation of mails which has not been delivered.

This is entirely erroneous. We have no accumulation of mail in Shanghai; all we receive are delivered regularly.

The only mails we have, which are not delivered, are mails addressed to shops which are boarded up or closed, or to addressees who have placed their respective keys underneath their doors and departed to "cooler" places than Shanghai.

There have been delays caused to mails which before arrival were over-carried to Hongkong and Japan.

I can assure the public in general and the "Foreign Businessman" in particular that we are as anxious to deliver the mails to the public as they are to receive them.

A. M. CHAPELAIN,
Director of Posts

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—I have been amused at the curious mentality of those of your correspondents who, by subtle words, are plainly suggesting that because your journal has consistently refused to publish the flagrant untruths disseminated by Chinese sources, you are therefore pro-Japanese, perhaps even "bought over" by the Japanese.

I am confident the great majority of readers of the "North-China Daily News" are agreed that your journal has been more than fair to the Chinese side in this deplorable conflict.

It may be stated that my own sympathies are wholly with the Chinese people, that is, with the masses, who are helpless and who stand to lose their all. But I refuse to allow my views to be warped just to please certain parties.

I beg that you will continue to present the news fairly as you are doing, and not be turned from your purpose by considerations which in the long run are bound to do more harm than good to the Chinese cause.

RUMOURMONGERS
Foreign Offenders

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—I see from your issue of to-day that in the Chinese controlled areas around Shanghai the death penalty is meted out for "rumour mongering."

It seems to me that similar action (if not quite so strong) by the Consular Body regarding foreign offenders might have a salutary effect at this time. The most extravagant fables have been told in the past two weeks regarding the outlying areas in the Western District, such as:—"unable to get to my house on Hungjao Road—was turned back by Chinese soldiers", and less than four days ago:—"A bomb fell on Hungjao Road to-day and blew a motor truck to pieces." Just lies, pure lies. Several foreign residents as far out as Rubicon Road have remained in occupation of their houses throughout the troubles, going to town each morning and returning in the evening. Others have visited their houses daily and remained there until dark, whilst a few riding people have found it possible to make a nice round of the roads as far as Rubicon Road without any interference from anyone. All is peaceful and serene out there and nothing but courtesy was received from the Chinese regular troops.

Peace Preservation Corps have now replaced the Regulars and, being nothing like so well disciplined as the Regulars, one must wait and see how they behave, but up to the present the writer has noticed nothing untoward except that instead of the smile one got from the Regulars the P.P.C. are rather sullen.

My suggestion to residents of the Hungjao district is to return to their homes even if they do find it necessary to be indoors before dark.

"FRESH AIR."

JAPANESE CAPTURE WOOSUNG VILLAGE

Drive Towards North and West Launched by Troops: Woosung Creek Crossed

A CONCERTED drive by the Japanese army, navy and air force yesterday morning resulted in the capture of Woosung village, the Woosung railway station and the forts.

Following the seizure of these points, the main body of the attacking force continued to advance towards Lotien, while a small unit was left behind to launch "mopping up" operations.

Crossing the Woosung Creek at two points under the cover of a smoke screen, a strong army detachment seized the village at 11 o'clock in the morning, following an hour's hand-to-hand combat with the defending force.

The water in the creek was breast-high, and the Japanese soldiers crossed it carrying their rifles and machine-guns above their heads.

Japanese Reach Forts

Without pausing to rest, the Japanese unit continued to press on, soon reaching the forts. Meeting little resistance, the attacking force captured the fortifications, destroyed in 1932, at about noon. The station was captured shortly before, by an independent detachment.

Following the capture of the forts, the Japanese forces continued to advance, closely pursuing the retreating Chinese troops, in the north-westerly direction.

The attack on Woosung was preceded by a heavy bombardment of the Chinese positions by Japanese warships, naval bombers, and Army artillery, landed south of Woosung.

Under this protective barrage, the major portion of Col. Takashi Takamori's detachment, advancing from Changhwapang, waded across the mouth of the creek.

Simultaneously, a small detachment commanded by Lieut. Taro Tokuhiro, advanced across the railway bridge, while other troops made a landing on the banks of the Whangpoo in small boats.

The Chinese forces, entrenched behind a reinforced concrete barrier fringing the banks of the river, and behind barricades on the north side of the Woosung creek, offered strong resistance.

Japanese military authorities later admitted that the Chinese machine-gun nests behind the concrete barrier created "no end of trouble" since the landing of Japanese troops at Changhwapang on August 23.

Heavy Shelling

While the Japanese army units were capturing Woosung, Japanese men-of-war, according to a statement issued by the Third Fleet last night, were subjecting Chinese batteries and infantry positions on the right wing of the Japanese line to "heavy shelling."

Meanwhile, Japanese naval air units were bombing Chinese positions in Woosung, Kiangwan, Tachang and Chapei.

Two Chinese Curtiss-Hawks, another communiqué of the Third Fleet claimed, were shot down in the morning while attempting to bomb Japanese men-of-war on the Yangtze River.

The destroyed aircraft formed a part of a strong Chinese air unit, the statement added. No damage was suffered by the Japanese warships.

In its first drive against Woosung village, the Japanese army yesterday morning opened a "determined offensive" from the Whangpoo River, a spokesman for the Japanese Army announced yesterday afternoon.

After occupying the village at 11 o'clock following bitter fighting for two hours, the Japanese forces were stated to be pursuing retreating Chinese forces in a northerly and westerly direction. The Japanese attack was preceded by a vigorous naval artillery barrage and aerial bombardment, according to a naval spokesman.

The spokesman for the Chinese military headquarters late last night confirmed that Japanese troops had landed in the vicinity of Woosung and that heavy fighting had broken out in that area.

Chinese Denial

Japanese reports that enemy forces had succeeded in occupying Woosung this morning were denied by a Chinese military spokesman at the press conference this evening.

Attack or North Station

The vigorous Japanese attack on Chinese positions in Chapei around the North Station early yesterday morning has again ended in failure.

The North Station received major attention from the Japanese field pieces and planes, which dropped four bombs on the station, damaging it to a certain extent.

A number of the missiles landed in the Settlement. In the West Hongkew district, a shell exploded at 6.40 this morning near the Elgin Road market, which building was damaged and three persons injured.

On the western area and on the Whangpoo River, the situation this morning was quiet. In the Woosung area, sporadic fighting was still going on. Japanese forces at Hsuchingkong have been surrounded by the Chinese, while those at Changhuapang were reported in the process of being "cleaned up," says the Central News.

The general position up to yesterday morning was that on the western area and on the Whangpoo the situation was quiet while to the north there was heavy fighting. The North Railway Station was again subjected to heavy shelling and bombing from aircraft and at 2.15 a.m. it was reported that Japanese aircraft dropped four bombs on this Station, doing considerable damage. A number of missiles landed in the Settlement and from the Yangtszepoo District it was reported that during a visit from Chinese aeroplanes between 2.45 a.m. and 3.05 a.m. four bombs were dropped, two of which failed to explode. The location of the bombs had not been ascertained when the early morning reports were received. In the West Hongkew District a shell exploded at 6.40 a.m. near the Elgin Road market, which building was damaged and three persons were injured. The extent of their injuries was not stated.

In the early morning all police stations north of the Soochow Creek reported "All Well and no casualties."

Early yesterday morning four Japanese military planes were reported to be flying over the Shanghai area, probably for purposes of observation.

Later on, shelling was reported in the vicinity of the Cantonese Cemetery in Chapei and several fires were reported from the Point Road area near the Settlement Boundary.

Chinese Troops in Area

Fourteen Chinese divisions, among which are included the units of the crack First Army commanded by Gen. Hu Tsung-nan, are now concentrated in the Shanghai area, Major Naokata Utsunomiya, assistant Japanese military attaché, announced yesterday morning.

Included, according to the spokesman were, the First, Second, Eleventh, Twenty-fourth, Thirty-sixth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Sixtieth, Sixty-first, Sixty-seventh, Seventy-eighth, Eighty-seventh, Eighty-eighth, and Ninety-eighth Divisions.

In addition, units from the Third, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-fifth, Eighty-third and Eighty-fifth divisions were also concentrated in the neighbourhood of Shanghai, he said.

The strength of Chinese division, Major Utsunomiya stated in replying to a question, ran from 8,000 to 16,000 men.

Planes Bomb Taziang

There was a lengthy bulletin during yesterday starting off with bombing by Japanese planes, again at a point East of Taziang. Four shells were reported to have dropped just north of the North Railway Station at 1.15 p.m. and ten minutes later shells were falling in Chapei in the vicinity of the Soochow Creek west of Yu Ya Ching Road. At 1.30 p.m. shells appeared to be falling in the vicinity of Pootoo Road District (near the Chinese Government Mint) and at 1.45 p.m. high explosive shells were reported to be exploding in Chinese territory opposite Mokanshan Road in the Pootoo Road District and shrapnel was falling in the same area.

At 2 p.m. a big fire was reported from the vicinity of Thorburn and Yangtszepoo Roads.

Union Jack Does Its Bit at Indian Shop

He was an Indian of substance, with a shop in Hongkew, but his views were rather revolutionary and had got him into minor trouble with other Indians there again and again. He was definitely not for the Empire and he said so.

Then the trouble came along and the street in which he lived was visited by troops, shells and looters. He hastily acquired a small Union Jack and hung it inside his shop. The same night there was further shelling and a small missile struck a Japanese shop next door to him and did a lot of damage. His own place, however, was not scratched.

A foreign policeman who knew the man passed by the following morning and the Indian rose from his chair in the shop entrance and saluted with great ceremony. Then he pointed to the flag and said solemnly: "This sure belong No. 1 country, sahib!".

DESTRUCTION ALONG LOWER WHANGPOO

Foreigner's Circuitous Trip to Shanghai

A foreigner was appalled yesterday at the destruction along the western bank of the Whangpoo River from Woosung as far as the region of the Chapei Waterworks. He was completing his return to Shanghai from Tientsin having been forced to follow a circuitous route to reach this city at all.

By boat he went from Tientsin to Dairen and from there to Nagasaki and, after considerable difficulties with "red tape" boarded the N.Y.K. ss. Nagasaki Maru which arrived here yesterday.

Dairen was flooded with refugees, mostly from Tsingtao which has been considered unsafe until recently. As a result, hotel prices, he said, have jumped enormously at Dairen. Wounded Japanese soldiers were abundantly evident, characteristically wearing their injuries as though they were medals.

He counted ten Japanese transports lying in the vicinity of Woosung yesterday morning. Japanese destroyers were also profusely spread over the area and from all these ships enthusiastic cries of "Banzai" greeted the Japanese liner as she steamed into the Whangpoo River.

While not demolished, wharves, godowns and various other structures along the west bank of the Whangpoo were badly battered and broken up, apparently by shells and bombs. The worst destruction was seen at the lower regions of the river and, from the deck of the ss. Shanghai Maru, it was possible to see the devastation resulting from heavy bombing just inland from the river.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS LEAVE TSINGTAO

Tsingtao, Aug. 31.

Tension was somewhat eased here to-day following the departure of Japanese warships for the South yesterday. Most of the local stores have re-opened for business. The entire body of Japanese nationals here, numbering more than 2,000, are waiting for ships to Japan.—Central News.

SHANGHAI REFUGEES DEPART

Arrival and departure of the ss. Rosalie Moller and the ss. Hsin Peking, two vessels which have been engaged for some time now in the work of repatriation of refugees to Ningpo, was reported on Monday afternoon. According to the messages received, the Hsin Peking left the French Bund just after 4 p.m. and her berth was immediately taken by the Rosalie Moller.

Moscow Views China Pact As Peace Bulwark

German Press Sees Ending of Path to Understanding

ITALIAN OPINION HELD CLOSELY IN RESERVE

Moscow, Aug. 31.

The conclusion of a non-aggression pact between China and Soviet Russia represents a new manifestation of the invariable peaceable policy of the U.S.S.R., declares the "Izvestia" in a leading article. The paper dilates on the principle of the indivisibility of peace.

The "Pravda" adopts a similar attitude, and adds that the pact represents a new expression of the friendly feeling of the people of the U.S.S.R. towards the Chinese people struggling for freedom and independence. The treaty, it declares, represents a new instrument of peace and collective security.—Reuter.

Berlin Keeps Calm

Berlin, Aug. 30.

Political circles here do not manifest any nervousness concerning the conclusion of the Sino-Soviet pact and judge the event objectively.

Although the fear is expressed in some quarters that China may henceforth be exposed in consequence to certain Bolshevist influences, it is on the other hand emphasized that Gen. Chiang Kai-shek and his government have invariably pursued an anti-Communist policy and may be expected to maintain their independence in this respect also in future.

Hence German political circles are inclined to regard China's pact of non-aggression with Soviet Russia in the light of a measure of security taken by the Chinese Government with the object eliminating the complications which might be detrimental to China's national struggle for liberty and of enabling her forthwith to mobilize all defensive resources of the country. It is stressed here that from this point of view it is not surprising that the Chinese Government should have resolved to conclude the agreement in question.—Trans-Ocean.

Italians Silent Over Pact

Rome, Aug. 30.

Beyond reporting the conclusion of the Sino-Soviet pact of non-aggression, the press is silent, although the headline in "Giornale d'Italia" saying "Bolshevik Manœuvres in China," speaks for itself. Authoritative circles maintain the strictest reserve.—Reuter.

Too Many Sweets!

"When a child is well give it no medicine", is a wise adage. But little children tempted by delicacies, sweets, pastry and other rich things, often eat too much in spite of every care, and at this time of year, too, they are apt to eat fruit, regardless of whether it is overripe or unripe or even in unsound condition. When this happens do not wait for the child to complain, but administer a dose of Baby's Own Tablets and the childish indiscretion will do no great harm.

Baby's Own Tablets are a safe, dependable, corrective for little children's stomach and bowel troubles. They are the prescription of a medical child-specialist and are guaranteed to contain no opiate, narcotic or other harmful ingredient. Easy to give as children like their pleasant taste, the tablet form ensures accuracy of dosage.

Baby's Own Tablets are equally good for the treatment of infantile constipation, indigestion, colic, diarrhoea; they assist in relieving colds and croup, allay feverishness, expel worms, and are an invaluable aid at teething time. Chemists everywhere can supply

ROAD FROM NANKING HEAVILY BOMBED

Traveller Counts 80 Cars Derelict By Wayside

A traveller who has reached Shanghai from Nanking reports that he travelled on the same road as that taken by the British Ambassador on the day following the attack on His Excellency's car and the road presented the appearance of having been subjected to heavy bombing.

He counted no less than 80 motor-cars derelict by the side of the road and the road itself was pitted with holes.

REFUGEE POPULATION DWINDLING

Shanghai's surplus population is dwindling at a gratifying rate as repatriation is carried on constantly by means of outbound trains and boats. Ten of thousands have already left. On Sunday, 2,500 refugees sailed for Kwangtung in the ss. Hunan and on Monday four shiploads left the city. 4,000 left for Ningpo in the ss. Loong San and another 4,900 left in the ss. Shin Fu. For Swatow, 1,200 sailed in the ss. Hsin Peking and for Chefoo, 350 left Shanghai in the ss. Zung Ai.

FIRE BRIGADE HAS BUSY DAY

17 Ambulance Calls and Four Fire Calls

Conditions in Shanghai on August 30 appeared to be returning to normal, so far as business was concerned, yet the Fire Brigade had quite a busy day.

The ambulance service attended 17 calls and conveyed 23 patients to hospital. In addition to this work, three emergency ambulances were kept busy during the morning moving patients from one hospital to another in which service they conveyed 59 persons.

The firefighting side was also kept busy with four fire calls, one of which alone entailed some three hours of strenuous physical labour, no light matter in this warm weather. In response to an appeal from another Department, one pump responded and was employed for about 1½ hours.

A visit of inspection was paid by the Chief Officer to the defence lines in the Northern area, for the purpose of checking up on outbreaks of fire reported in the vicinity.

The work at fires in the Northern and Eastern areas is very severe on hose and during the past few days it has been found necessary to take a good deal of hose out of commission for overhaul and extensive repairs

SHIPS DRESSED TO HONOUR HOLLAND

Queen Wilhelmina's Birthday Celebrated

Yesterday was the birthday of Her Majesty Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, but there was no official celebration in Shanghai although many Netherlanders privately toasted their sovereign's health.

Foreign warships in harbour, with the exception of the Japanese, were dressed for the occasion and Her Majesty's birthday provided the opportunity for the rare sight of the Netherlands flag being flown on foreign warships in Shanghai. Through the recurrent development of circumstances, the Netherlands flag has been seen here only in times of stress—although this casts no reflection on the peace-loving characteristics of Holland—the last time the Netherlands flag was flown by warships here was in 1932 during the Sino-Japanese troubles, and previously in 1927.

IMPARTIAL NOT NEUTRAL

THE REFUGEE PROBLEM

The Sino-Foreign Committee, presided over by Mr. W. H. Plant, an American member of the Shanghai Municipal Council, should have full support from the community in its work of co-ordinating the evacuation of refugees. Subscriptions should be sent in favour of that committee to the Hongkong & Shanghai Banking Corporation direct. The great need is promptness, for the essence of the problem with which the Committee is dealing is time. The more quickly machinery can be moved to evacuate the refugees from Shanghai, the less serious will be the burden on the economic and civic fabric of a stricken city. It is estimated that about 1,000,000 people have been added to the population of the Settlement and the French Concession combined from outlying districts as well as from those parts of Shanghai which have come under the continuous blight of military operations. About 200,000 have been evacuated or have left of their own accord. Of the refugees it is thought that about 100,000 are destitute. The process of evacuation will not greatly reduce that destitution for the figure is automatically swollen as the days pass by the transfer of the self-supporting to the ranks of those without visible means of subsistence. The various associations which are tackling this urgent task are deserving of the utmost support and the Committee with its well-chosen personnel, assured of adequate business supervision and expert guidance, should have the unhesitating beneficence of the community at its command. Various Chinese organizations are already doing well in this regard. It seems that the present appeal should commend itself particularly to large Chinese business firms who, apart from their natural feelings of solicitude for the welfare of the less fortunate of their countrymen, will gladly welcome an opportunity to make a substantial contribution to the restoration of economic stability here. It is obvious that so long as the refugees are held up in this blind alley of stagnation they are a definite handicap to Shanghai's recuperation which, in the long run, must work to their benefit as well as to that of Shanghailanders themselves.

Taken in the mass these refugees merit the most sympathetic attention which Shanghai can give, for their general conduct and docility have been remarkable. It is not difficult to imagine the straits to which many of them have been reduced by loss of all their little worldly possessions, by severe shocks sustained during the strain and stress of some cruel experiences, by sheer bewilderment regarding the meaning of the craziness around them. Yet, mutely questioning, trying their best to find some place where they can be allowed to stay in comparative peace, striving by whatever means to preserve their personal integrity, these pathetic groups of Chinese citizens awaken pity in the mind of the most casual observer. The spirit of helpfulness which they display toward each other is truly remarkable. It should be inspiring to Shanghailanders who may well adopt Dido's words: "Non ignara mali succurrere miseris disco" or as the Cockney ballad freely but succinctly translates it "It's the poor what 'elps the poor." Shanghai is not yet indigent. It can however sense the comradeship of indigence and this certainly will give an additional stimulus to the springs of charity which so naturally find scope in this country where the obligations of the family system are so much revered. There is a practical reason for swift benevolence for, as a Chinese magnate of no little force of character and by no means lacking in finer feeling has observed, the evacuation of the refugees is a direct insurance against future trouble. Quietness and patience have their limits.

Foreign firms and individual foreigners have already shown their appreciation of this need. A munificent donation from New York led the way. The Municipality of the City Government of Shanghai and the Shanghai Municipal Council have already weighed in with thumping support. It is believed that the French Municipal Council is following suit. The opportunity thus to assert the solidarity of Shanghai should not be foregone. Even small donations will mark the right spirit of this time of distress. Above all it is essential that the men who have much should do much to prove their effective co-operation in the social life from which they draw so many benefits. That this appeal is not made without confidence in its success is evident from the enthusiasm with which the Committee has assumed its task. In particular it is fitting to commend the energy and practical guidance of Mr. Yu Ya-ching who, from opinions expressed in responsible quarters, is adjudged to have earned the special gratitude of Shanghai for the yeoman service rendered by him in this evacuation. It must be remembered that for many of the unemployed jobs are not likely to be available here for some time to come. It is true that conditions are improving. One Chinese textile mill for example is said to be resuming on part time and others may be expected to follow suit. Some concerns, however, have been closed and will, in all probability never reopen. Shanghai will have to be content with a shrunken industrial organization for the present at any rate. Reduction of the number of its inhabitants is therefore a prudent measure of practical economics. The chief thing for Shanghai to consider is that these refugees are in its midst. The figure of 1,000,000 is held by some good judges to be conservative and that, if the situation could be closely studied, it might be put as high as 1,500,000. Moreover the destitution figure of 100,000 does not fully cover the plight of refugees who, although not desperate in their economic state, are actually without homes. These, it is said, amount to some 300,000 who are finding accommodation in odd corners of the municipal areas available to them, sleeping on staircases, in empty public buildings (including cinemas) and the like. Obviously this condition cannot be allowed to persist any longer than is absolutely unavoidable. The call therefore is for funds to strengthen the arm of the co-ordinating committee by immediately raising the total at its disposal to the $200,000 required.

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP

The much heralded fight for the heavyweight championship of the world has now become fighting history, and Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber, has succeeded in maintaining his title against the very determined attack made upon it by Tommy Farr, the Tonypandy Terror. On the face of it Farr does not appear to have been so ill-advised, as it was at first thought, in taking on the champion so early in his own career, for he was able to give so good an account of himself that the crowd was prepared to concede him the victory, a finding which is supported by the report of the United Press in its description of the contest round by round. Sports writer's verdicts are not official, those of the judges are, and the fact that the latter found in favour of the champion must stand no matter how much disagreement with their judgment there may happen to be. Farr, on the showing of the United Press seems to have had hard luck in not having secured the judges' suffrages, for he appears to have taken eight rounds to Louis's five, the remaining two being considered even. Farr seems to have overcome the physiological and psychological factors which, last week, it was pointed out were against him, and to have given a performance which completely belied the judgment of his form as estimated by the gambling fraternity. The decision, giving rise as it will to much discussion, is obviously unsatisfactory, and it is to be hoped that the two men will be matched again in the near future. In that event it is to be hoped that less criticism of the decision will be noticeable, for it would be the death-blow of international boxing, if it ever became thought that the heavyweight championship of the world had in certain national aspects become as exclusive as a certain well know less secular institution.

"MORAL ISOLATION"

Somehow or other, despite the excellence of the intentions governing its institutions, Geneva seems liable to indulge in expressions which by their brahminical odour nauseate rather than instil fragrance into the international mind. Japan's aggression in China merits and has received the severest condemnation. The destruction and desolation here—direct products of that unwarrantable aggression are plain enough to see. This view has been appropriately expressed no doubt by diplomatic methods as well as by observation in the responsible press of the world. It is necessary, however, to distinguish between a policy and the nation which has incautiously adopted it. Japan, her friends as well as her enemies think, has made a tragic error in entrusting her destinies for the time being to the authors of the policy whose fruits are so grimly to be perceived in Shanghai. That does not justify facile talk of exposing Japan to "moral isolation" for the wise man hopes that, by persuasion allied to the lessons of experience, the Japanese people will come to realize their error. It is justifiable to lose no opportunity of emphasizing that point, but the development of a new theory of "untouchability" in the cause of collective security is not helpful.

RELAXATION

With all deference to the admirable leaders of the New Life Movement in Shanghai it may be suggested that too strict a line with cabarets and other places of amusement would not be wise. In the Great War all nations found that the strain of conflict—both on the home front and behind the line—could be judiciously eased by harmless entertainment. No-one would desire that the population should indulge in aimless dissipation when men are fighting for their lives around them and countless civilians are suffering, but decently-run cabarets may by their reopening assist in the return to normality, may afford a welcome relaxation to overwrought minds and, indeed, do their part in reducing the burden of unemployment. If this principle could be so applied by opening cinemas the community might be even more pleased, always assuming that the authorities approved of the resumption.

PAUL SCHEFFER

Herr Paul Scheffer, the distinguished special correspondent of the "Berliner Tageblatt" and its former chief editor, has been renewing his acquaintance with China in difficult circumstances. Travelling up to Nanking from Canton Herr Scheffer has been able to pay a short visit to Shanghai and to meet old friends as well as make the acquaintance of those who have desired to get word with a man of his wide experience and authoritative contacts. Herr Scheffer, it will be recalled, was for some time his newspaper's special correspondent in Russia and has enhanced his reputation by his dispassionate and discerning studies of the situation there, although unfortunately his objective turn of mind did not fit in with long residence in Russia. In 1925 Herr Scheffer was in North China and, no doubt, his present visit has enabled him to adjust his previous knowledge to appreciation of the developments of the last twelve years. Herr Scheffer's gifts of exposition allied to a broad-visioned humanity make him a particularly valuable exponent of sanity in this fever-ridden world. He is now on his way to the United States of America and his despatches on his experiences will be ultimately read with great interest and instruction.

GOOD RADIO WORK

The breakdown in the cables—through no fault of the efficient companies concerned but owing to the accident of this "undeclared war"—has thrown on the Chinese Government Radio Administration as worked jointly by the R.C.A. Communications and Mackay companies in public-spirited co-operation an unexpectedly heavy strain. In the first rush of the traffic caused, of course, by the sudden descent of messages with which the cables could no longer cope, the staff were tested to the utmost. Yet they managed to serve London and New York without exceeding three hours in departure from the normal time of transmission. The Hongkong traffic presented more difficulties, for at the other end the expansion of the Hongkong staff to meet the sudden emergency required a little arrangement so that delays on that route at one time extended to eight hours. Even that was not at all discreditable in the circumstances. In fact good radio work was done and Shanghai is grateful accordingly.

HOOVER BOMBING

Another deplorable accident has involved the Chinese Government in a situation with which it has promptly dealt by making a frank admission and apology. That very proper proceeding will, however, not satisfy public opinion unless, in accordance with the principles so admirably and restrainedly stated in the British Government's note to Japan, measures are taken to ensure a stricter distinction between combatants and non-combatants by the contending forces. Obviously the bombing of the President Hoover was a mistake, but it was a mistake which should not have occurred especially in view of previous tragedies. The immediate result has been that Admiral Yarnell, with characteristic decision, has ordered American ships to omit Shanghai from their ports of call for the time being. This must cause considerable inconvenience but it is a measure of precaution which can hardly be questioned. The Dollar Line and the unfortunate victims of the outrage will be the recipients of general sympathy and it is earnestly hoped that the wounded will recover from their injuries as speedily as possible.

THE ROMANTIC RADEK

It is possible that, so long as Radek, former editor-in-chief of the Soviet Russian newspaper "Isvestia" lives, fantastic stories will be published about him. That printed in the "Daily Express," and emanating from Moscow, to the effect that he has been released from prison, may be just as true, or as false, as some of the others that have preceded it. For it must be remembered that, only a short while after the trial at which he received a sentence of ten years imprisonment, instead of the death penalty which it was confidently believed would be his, the story was given currency that he had been freed on condition that he wrote articles supporting the government, for high treason against which he had narrowly escaped with his life. The new story, that prior to his arrest Radek had deposited abroad State documents seriously compromising Stalin with the threat that they would be published if anything happened to him, is not sufficiently romantic to be incredible, and if true would completely account for the immunity which this self-confessed arch-traitor has received, for it must be remembered that the prosecutor Vyshynsky was emphatic in demanding that Radek should die. If the story is true it tells the tale of a position which is still not without its difficulties. Obviously Radek is safe only so long as the documents are securely hidden abroad; while he remains in Russia it is unlikely that Stalin will ever be able to obtain possession of them. If he did, Radek might receive short shrift. All that Stalin has purchased, therefore, if the story be true, is the doubtful benefit that so long as Radek remains alive the disclosures, which such documents it is suggested contain, will not be made, but so long as they remain abroad Stalin has only secured postponement of the evil day. If, however, it subsequently transpires that Radek is permitted to travel out of Russia it may be taken that the story, or something extremely like it is true, though at all times Radek's behaviour at the trial must invest him with some aura of the legendary.

Sixty Years Ago

FROM THE "NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS" OF SEPTEMBER 1, 1877

As most of our readers are no doubt aware, a project has been started lately for getting up a Steam Washing Company in Shanghai, the capital to be Tls. 6,000 in a hundred shares of Tls. 60. each. We are glad to learn that three-fourths of this sum has been subscribed; and when a few more signatures have been obtained it is, we believe, intended to call a meeting of subscribers, with a view to appoint a Committee and commence operations. We wish Mr. Meller (who is energetically promoting the scheme) all success in his endeavours. The prospect of having one's clothes not knocked to pieces, and possibly of having one's shirts returned a little less the colour of peasoup is one which only those who have lately come out from home can fully realize; but which every one can imagine with pleasure.

In the House of Commons on July 17, Mr. Bourks, the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, stated in reply to Sir C. Dilke and Mr. Ashley that the appointment of a Chief Justice of China and Japan, was still under consideration.

ANOTHER EVACUATION FROM YANGTSZEPOO

Remaining Residents Ordered Out: Belief That Japanese Troops Will Be Landed

REGULATIONS FOR ENTERING AREA

ACTING in obedience to an order of the Japanese Naval Landing Party, which is believed to presage the early landing of Japanese troops in the East Yangtszepoo area preparatory to the widely reported major offensive of the Japanese combined forces against the Chinese positions, some 6,000 Chinese civilians who had remained in Yangtszepoo through the storm and stress of the last two weeks evacuated yesterday to more safe, presumably, ground south of the Soochow Creek.

The Chinese were shifted from dwellings ranging from pretentious country houses to straw-huts, partly by car and partly on foot. Nearly a score motor-trucks operated frantically through most of the day evacuating families and their dearest belongings, and it was estimated that 4,500 men, women and children were removed in cars. In addition, about 1,500 proceeded on foot from the area via Yangtszepoo Road and Broadway and were passed over the Garden Bridge. In the case of the exodus on wheels, only foreign drivers were used to transport the refugees.

Tremendous fires in Yangtszepoo coincided with or followed the wholesale migration. The entire settlement of beggar huts east of Lay Road Creek which had been the cause of serious trouble early this year, went up in smoke shortly after 3.30 p.m. and other blazes flared in the district during the afternoon, including a large fire in a group of Chinese houses opposite the China Soap Company plant.

Mostly Poor People

All day long evacuees from Yangtszepoo traversed Yangtszepoo Road, Broadway East and Broadway to haven across the Garden Bridge. They were mostly poor people, carrying a single bundle, and apprehension was painted in the faces of most. From straw-hut settlements and obscure alleyways they emerged by the hundred and it took a steady stream of S.V.C. cars, Marden's trucks, police vans and other large vehicles to shift them. Some started the long trek on foot, but were picked up by passing evacuation cars. The Jewish Company, S.V.C., was active in the shifting of large numbers.

There were many, however, who had to be coaxed to get out. The sight of a policeman at the closed gate of their alleyway spelled trouble to them and they retreated to distant hiding-places whence they had to be drawn out. There were some, undoubtedly, who defied the efforts of the authorities to evacuate them and just could not be shifted. On the whole, however, the population of Yangtszepoo responded readily to the demand for removal. They were only too glad to leave a zone in which they had experienced heavy tribulations during the last few days, when they realised that their remaining there might mean death on the spot.

A further evacuation from the district is to be attempted this morning by the Police and S.V.C.

Chinese May Not Enter

Chinese will remain barred from the Hongkew and Yangtszepoo areas except for special cases, a spokesman for the Japanese Consulate-General announced yesterday afternoon. Foreigners will be admitted to these districts provided they comply with certain requirements, the spokesman said.

Members of the Shanghai Municipal Police, foreign members of the S.V.C. and Chinese constables of the S.M.P., as well as foreign troops, will be admitted to these districts, only when in uniform, the announcement said.

Admitted to the district will be the following foreigners:—

1. Those possessing passes issued by the command of the Japanese Third Fleet.
2. Foreigners possessing passes issued by the Japanese Consulate-General.
3. Foreigners employed by Japanese who possess certificates to this effect.
4. Foreigners carrying passes issued by the Consulate-General, however, will be allowed only in areas south of the following roads,

In Hongkew:—Range Road and Dixwell Road.

In Yangtszepoo:—Tongshan Road, Seward Road, Baikal Road, Pinliang Road, Haichow Road, and Liching Road.

In the Godown area all districts except those of Japanese or Chinese property will be open to foreigners.

The Garden Bridge will be open to bearers of such passes from eight o'clock in the morning to five o'clock in the afternoon.

Chinese employed by Japanese or foreigners, who have been authorized to enter the districts by the Navy, will not be barred, the spokesman said.

Consulate Passes

Foreigners requiring a Japanese Consulate pass, should submit identification papers from their own consul when applying for a Japanese consular pass in the N.Y.K. office on the Bund. These passes, the spokesman said, would be valid only for the day.

Because of the necessity of assigning a member of the Japanese company of the S.V.C. to each vehicle carrying foreigners, a certain delay may be caused at the Garden Bridge, the spokesman said.

For the time being, no property will be permitted to be taken out according to Japanese officials. Steps, he said, were being studied for the transportation of perishable goods from Yangtszepoo and Hongkew to areas south of the settlement.

Nanking Lodges Note to League Over Hostilities

No Appeal Nor Request Made in Recital of Facts

RESULT MAY BE "MORAL BOYCOTT" OF JAPAN

Geneva, Aug. 30.

The Chinese Government has sent a Note to the League of Nations recounting the events in China since the Lukouchiao incident on July 7 and the grave situation that has arisen from it. It neither appeals to the League nor asks that anything be placed on the agenda of the next meeting of the Assembly.—Reuter.

Geneva Reactions

Geneva, Aug. 31.

The Chinese Note to the League of Nations is regarded in political circles here as indicating that the Sino-Japanese conflict is rapidly reaching a critical state, and coming as it does immediately after the conclusion of the non-aggression pact between China and Soviet Russia, the Note is interpreted by many as a further attempt to place Japan in the position of a moral isolation.

In Chinese circles it is declared that the conditions are much more favourable to such a development today than at the time of the Manchurian conflict in 1931-33, since at that time Britain pursued a policy of hesitation and delay evidently in the hope of preventing the resignation of Japan from the League of Nations. American policy also played a prominent role behind the scenes in Geneva on that occasion and the proposal of the then United States Secretary of State, Mr. Stimson, that the territory acquired in violation of international law, should not be recognized, constituted the principal part of the final resolution drawn up by the League in 1933. It is declared that the Chinese Note is based to a considerable extent on this resolution.

Optimists in League of Nations circles expect that the Note will at least result in a "moral boycott" being placed on Japan by the League.—Trans-Ocean.

CONCLUSIVE CHOP ON RETURN TO NORMAL

Ham Rescued from War Zone for Del Monte Opening

The return to normalcy in Shanghai was given a conclusive chop yesterday afternoon when Mr. "Demon" Hyde announced that his famous night spot Del Monte will open its doors again to-night at 7 o'clock.

In the uniform in which he drives a rescue van at top speed on all kinds of dangerous missions, this well-known Shanghai figure told an assortment of tales regarding recent experiences both exciting and amusing. The work has not been without a personal reward, which, strangely enough, took the shape of a monkey. While fighting a fire, he heard screams high in the house. Thinking a woman was trapped he climbed up to get her, only to find he was rescuing a monkey which he promptly and happily appropriated.

One of his most important missions was the rescuing from the war zone of supplies of American ham and bacon which will be on hand for the benefit of patrons to-night. Ernie Kaai and his ten-piece band will furnish music as usual.

WAR MATERIALS FROM RUSSIA

Alleged Secret Clauses in Sino-Soviet Pact

Paris, Aug. 31.

What is alleged to be a series of secret clauses in the Sino-Soviet pact of non-aggression is published to-day in the French newspaper "Le Jour."

By virtue of these clauses, says the journal, the Soviet Republics would engage themselves to furnish China before November with war material, including 362 aeroplanes, 200 tanks, 5,000 horses, 2,500 motor cycles, 1,500 tractors, 150,000 rifles, 120,000 shells, and 16,000,000 cartridges.

In addition, "Le Jour" continues, Soviet Russia would regularly furnish Russian and other volunteers and technicians.

In return, China would have to deposit gold in the Soviet state bank covering 50 per cent of the supplies.

Furthermore, the newspaper adds, Russia would receive a series of concessions in North China.—Reuter.

SHANGHAI AMERICAN FOUND DEAD

Mr. Eric Katz Takes Life in Manila

Manila, Aug. 31.

Mr. Eric Katz, 25-year-old American, who arrived in Manila in June from Shanghai, was found dead in his room at the Manila Hotel this morning. An empty bottle of veronal was found.

He had been under observation following an attempt to commit suicide on Sunday, when his brother found him with both wrists cut.

It is understood that Mr. Katz had been depressed owing to family troubles.—Reuter.

INFORMATION WANTED

The American Consulate-General at Shanghai will appreciate the receipt of information as to the present whereabouts of Lelia Altha Duncan and Lelia Myrtle Rathwell, who are reported to have sailed from Tientsin on ss. Yunnan arriving at Shanghai on August 9.

The Rotary Club of Shanghai have resumed regular meetings on Thursdays at 12.15 p.m., at the Metropole Hotel. This week's meeting will be held on September 2, and the speaker will be Rotarian J. M. Alkow of San Bernardino, California, who represents the Mutual Orange Distributors of that state, and has been very active in Community Service Work with his home organization. The subject he has chosen is "Relief Work", very appropriate to the present local conditions. It is hoped that all Rotarians in the city will be able to attend.

THOUSANDS EVACUATED FROM YANGTSZEPOO

"N.C.D.N." Photos.

Threats of new hostilities in the Eastern area caused the evacuation of about 6,000 Chinese civilians from Yangtszepoo yesterday. Above are seen groups of the refugees, who belonged mainly to the poorest class, with their modest gear. Evacuation trucks furnished by the S.V.C., Police and household removal companies were rushed in some instances by the evacuees who were anxious to reach safe ground. The Police escorted the groups, with members of the Jewish Company, S.V.C., and others driving the cars.

SETTLEMENT'S SITUATION IS STILL SATISFACTORY

Bombing of Hoover Deplored in S.M.C. Broadcast: Central District Offices Reopening

THE main centre of interest in the local troubled zone was, on Monday night and yesterday, transferred even further afield when the news was received of the President Hoover incident. Residents had begun to acquire a working knowledge of the Kiangwan, Lotien, and Liuho districts and were even thinking of studying available maps for the exact location of Soochow, Wusih and other points westwards, when the broadcast and other messages about the Hoover drew their immediate attention to the river entrances to Shanghai with the result that the geography of Tsungming Island, Duck Island, Gutzlaff, the South and North Channels, was the chief item of discussion last night and the hostilities to the north of the Settlement were temporarily forgotten, said last night's S.M.C. Radio Broadcast.

It may be well just once more to repeat the advice so often profferred in these messages to dismiss immediately from one's thoughts all wild rumours and concentrate on facts, hard facts, and facts only. Following so quickly on the incident involving His Excellency, the British Ambassador, the President Hoover affair of yesterday afternoon is, of course, deeply to be deplored.

Reviewing the position to-day, with the Hoover and other reports of last night's events duly considered, it again can be pointed out that so far as the Settlement is concerned the situation remains as satisfactory as can be expected. The Chapei area to the immediate north of the Settlement was the scene of fighting during the night, shelling and aircraft bombing both taking place. Shells exploded in the northern area of the Settlement but the damage done was not very serious.

Offices Re-opening

It has been very noticeable since the resumption of business on Monday morning that the majority of those residents and workers in the Central District who had found things just a little too hot for comfort are now rapidly returning to their homes and offices. The Shanghai Municipal Police are of course doing everything in their power to help along this good work and it is hoped that in a very short time all businesses in the Central District will be functioning absolutely as usual.

A notification which will not fall so pleasantly on the public but which it is imperative should be announced is that the collection of general municipal rate, land tax, dues and fees is now proceeding. All persons indebted to the Council, both Chinese and foreign, are requested to remit directly to the Revenue Office such monies as may be due.

Hongkong Welcome

It is permissible to close to-day on yet another note of satisfaction. A telephone message received from Shanghai Fire Brigade Headquarters to-day states that a message was received from Mr. King, Inspector-General of Police and also in command of the Hongkong Fire Brigade, stating that the Superintendent of the Hongkong Fire Brigade and members of the staff and their wives met the steamer on which the wives and families of Shanghai Fire Brigade members arrived in the Colony and were doing everything possible to make them and other arrivals on that steamer comfortable. The Hongkong Fire Brigade has, in fact, adopted the Shanghai Fire Brigade evacuees protem. It would seem from other messages received from Hongkong that the luck of the Shanghai evacuees generally has not been so black as painted.

CANTON HAS FIRST AIR RAID

Populace Panic-Stricken by Japanese Bombers

Canton, Aug. 31.

Pandemonium reigned in Canton this morning when the city was raided by Japanese 'planes for the first time.

According to a source connected with the Chinese air force, seven Japanese bombers took part in the attack. They dropped two bombs on gun emplacements at Shaho, near the military aerodrome, and then made off amidst heavy fire from anti-aircraft guns.

A foreign eye-witness at Shameen, however, said he saw six machines flying at a height of 12,000 ft.

The raiders were first sighted at 6 o'clock this morning, when the sound of gunfire and alarm gongs warned the populace to take precautions. The gates leading to Shameen were immediately closed to prevent an influx of panic-stricken Chinese, many of whom could be seen rushing excitedly everywhere.

A spokesman of the Kuangtung Government claims that, before the Japanese bombers succeeded in getting away, they were engaged by Chinese machines, who brought two of the raiders down at the Bocca Tigris forts.—Reuter.

Hongkong, Aug. 31.

The naval authorities here have been informed by British gunboats on the West River that Japanese bombers flew over Canton at 6.30 o'clock this morning and were heavily shot at by anti-aircraft guns.

The gunboats did not see any bombings, but later watched Chinese 'planes pursue the raiders.—Reuter.

POLAND BENEFITS IN THE CHINA WAR

Large Orders from China for Winter Uniforms

Warsaw, Aug. 30.

The Polish textile industry is being swamped with orders as a result of the Sino-Japanese conflict. The Bialystocker factories have at present, according to press reports, orders on hand to deliver 15,000,000 Zlotys worth of material to China for winter uniforms for the army. The textile factories at Lodz are also working in three shifts to fulfil pending orders from the Far East. Several ships have already left Gdynia for China with cargoes of textile goods.—Trans-Ocean.

Coast Sailings Scheduled Well Into the Future

Many Shanghailanders Sail for Northern Ports

SS. LEESANG DUE TO-DAY FROM HONGKONG

Indicative of the improved shipping conditions of the Shanghai harbour, Jardine, Matheson & Co. Ltd. is once again issuing daily schedules of vessels arriving and departing. While the list is hardly as long as in the pre-War days, it shows that transportation is regularly available now of passengers, cargo and mail to North China and South China ports.

This morning, the ss. Leesang is due from Hongkong direct and will tie up alongside Hunt's Wharf which has been reoccupied by the wharf staff after being somewhat battered by hostilities. To-morrow, the Leesang will sail on her return trip to South China where she will call at Swatow, Hongkong and Canton.

From Tientsin and Chefoo, the ss. Tingsang is to arrive here to-morrow and will sail on the following morning for Swatow, Hongkong and Canton. The Fausang will arrive from Hongkong, Swatow and Foochow, and on the following day will continue northward to Tsingtao, Chefoo and Dairen. The last ship scheduled by the line is the ss. Chaksang which should arrive here on Monday from Tientsin and Chefoo to sail on Tuesday for Swatow, Hongkong and Canton.

Many Sail for North

Two river vessels of the line are lying idle in port here owing to the Chinese Government ban on traffic between Shanghai and Nanking. The ss. Fuhwo is at the Yangtszepoo Dock while the ss. Tungwo is waiting patiently alongside the Pootung Old Dock.

A full load of passengers sailed from Shanghai yesterday in the B. & S. ss. Shengking bound for Tsingtao, Chefoo and Weihaiwei. The long list consisted mostly of men, the majority being Chinese.

A good deal of long awaited mail from the south, and more forwarded mail, is expected to arrive in Shanghai this morning on board the ss. Leesang. A further consignment of mail from the Colony should follow into port on Friday in the ss. Fausang.

The re-opening of water communications will enable the Shanghai Post Office to get rid of heaped-up mail bags which have been waiting for ships to carry them out.

RUSSIANS DETAINED AS LOOTERS

Alleged Crimes in Wayside During Fighting

Three more foreigners have been arrested by the Police on suspicion of having looted shops in Wayside and Broadway which had been vacated because of the Sino-Japanese hostilities. Two of the arrested persons were Russians, Victor Stepenev, unemployed, and Nataly Borisov, a woman. It was alleged that the woman took away a quantity of canned goods and bottles of wine from a Chinese grocery shop at No. 1 Wayside Road and the stolen property was removed in a motor car which Stepenev had stolen from Broadway. The suspects were arrested at House No. 2, Lane No.124, Route Tenant de la Tour, on Monday, where a portion of the stolen property was found. One Philco radio set, a clock and clothing were also found in the house, but their owners had not yet been located.

The third person in custody was an unrecognized Pole, Karolina Jakoubovski, who was alleged by the police to have been involved in looting a haberdashery shop at No. 1011 Broadway and a Chinese shoe shop in Broadway. Mr. Kalnin, the complainant, left his house at 1011 Broadway on August 22 because of the fighting. He reported to the police last Monday that many articles had been stolen from his house when he sent a man to that place recently. Acting on information received, the police arrested the suspect at 1053 Avenue Foch.

In the First District Court yesterday, the three suspects were ordered to be detained till September 7 for further inquiries.

On August 28, four foreigners, Alexander Faitzer, Lydia Monhian (a woman), Anton Haken, jr., and A. Haken, sr., were brought before the court and ordered to be held till September 4 on suspicion of having looted a foreign boarding house at 95 Wayside Road during the fighting.

WAR-DODGING PLAN FOR U.S.A.

Senator Vandenberg Details His Programme

Buffalo, Aug. 30.

A programme to dodge wars and avoid entangling alliances was outlined here to-day by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, in his keynote address before 4,500 Veterans of Foreign Wars, assembled in convention.

The first point stressed by Senator Vandenberg was to avoid entangling alliances, "either direct or indirect, which might tie us morally or otherwise with foreign destinies and rob us in any degree of our completely independent right to decide wholly for ourselves when, where, how or if ever we shall go to war."

Other points emphasized by the Senator were: "neutrality, which means what it says when other nations are at war; legislation, now, to take the profits out of any future war, and an intelligent maintenance of an adequate but not exaggerated national defence."—United Press.

REAR-ADMIRAL R. HOLT'S APPOINTMENT POSTPONED

London, Aug. 31.

The Admiralty announce to-day that the appointment of Rear-Admiral Reginald Holt, Captain, Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, as Rear-Admiral and Senior Naval Officer on the Yangtze, has been postponed. Admiral Holt was to assume command, about October 23, in succession to Rear-Admiral Lewis Gonne Eyre Crabbe. His appointment was from August 20, 1937.—Reuter.

NO GERMAN LOANS FOR JAPAN

Berlin, Aug. 30.

Informed quarters here state that the report published by a Chinese news agency that Germany declared herself willing to furnish a big loan to Japan for the purchase of war material is denied. It is emphatically added that Germany has no intention of taking such a step in the future.—Trans-Ocean.

Strong Protest In Pres. Hoover Bombing Affair

Bill for Damages as Sequel to Demarche Possible

SECRETARY OF STATE DEPLORES INCIDENT

Washington, Aug. 30.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, has instructed the American Ambassador in Nanking, Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, to lodge a strong protest with the Chinese Government regarding the bombing of the President Hoover.

The bombing, Mr. Hull declared, was very much to be deplored and was one of those not entirely unusual incidents occurring in conditions as existed in that area.

Subsequently, Mr. Hull indicated in a statement that Admiral H. E. Yarnell, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, had relieved Dollar liners of the necessity of calling at Shanghai for the time being.

The Navy, Mr. Huil said, had sufficient vessels in Chinese waters to evacuate the remaining 200 or 300 Americans desiring to leaving Shanghai.

Admiral Yarnell's action, he pointed out, applied only to Shanghai and to no other ports in China. The Secretary of State added that the Admiral had ordered the President Hoover to proceed to Kobe.—Reuter.

Bill for Damages Likely

It was considered possible that all American vessels would be advised to avoid Shanghai for the duration of the crisis. Mr. Cordell Hull seemed to indicate that the United States Government would take no action at present other than diplomatic protests, although a bill for damages may possibly be presented later. Apparently there was no thought in official quarters that the attack was deliberate, as a result of attention paid to preliminary reports which indicated that Japanese warships were in the vicinity of the President Hoover at the time of the bombing.—United Press.

Washington, Aug. 30.

The Chinese Ambassador, Dr. C. T. Wang, to-day issued a personal statement of sympathy to those injured by the bombing of the President Hoover yesterday.—United Press.

One Brought Down

Japanese aircraft which gave pursuit to the three Chinese Curtiss-Hawk machines that bombed the ss. President Hoover shot down one of the attacking 'planes, the command of the Japanese Third Fleet claimed in a communique issued late on Monday night.

The Japanese machines were sent aloft following the receipt of radio reports that the American vessel had been attacked and gave chase to the Chinese raiders, according to the announcement.

One Sailor Dead

The B.B.C. broadcast from Daventry last night announced that one sailor had died in the President Hoover from injuries received when the ship was bombed.

MOMBASSA RIOTING NOW ENDED

Governor Reports Situation Back Almost to Normal

London, Aug. 30.

A telegram from the Governor of Kenya, received at the Colonial Office, states that the recent Mombassa riots were confined to faction fighting in petty disputes between Washihiri Arabs and Jaluo Africans with a few odd members of other up-country tribes joining in. Coast and other Arabs were not involved. Nothing was directed against the government, European community or Indians. The disturbances were confined to natives of the location, the remainder of the town being unaffected.

Complete order was restored by Saturday night. There is a police detachment still camping at the location, and constant lorry patrols are being maintained. Casualties were fourteen Washihiri and one Jaluo dead. About sixty were arrested, a large number of whom have already been convicted. The situation is almost normal.—Wireless Through Reuter.

Japan Ready to "Sacrifice All" For Great Aim

Provocation of Chinese War Lords Must Be Curbed

PREMIER TO MAKE PLEA IN DIET ADDRESS

Tokyo, Aug. 31.

Japan is "prepared to sacrifice everything" to secure a lasting and fundamental readjustment of Sino-Japanese relations, the Premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, will tell the Diet on September 5, Domei learned to-day from authoritative sources.

The Prime Minister's address was approved by the Cabinet at its meeting to-day.

The objective of Japan's actions, the youthful Premier will declare, lies in securing peace in the Far East by creating a state of harmony and co-operation among Japan, Manchoukuo and China.

This, he will assert, can be achieved only be elimination of anti-foreign and anti-Japanese sentiment in China.

Japan, Prince Konoye will continue, does not regard the people of China as her enemy. She is fighting Chinese troops in order to make the Nanking Government reconsider its past actions.

The present crisis, the Prime Minister will contend, was brought about by the provocative activities of Chinese war lords.

He will appeal to the Japanese people to strain every effort to tide over the present difficulties with patience and tenacity so that the nation's fundamental policies may be realized.—Domei.

COLONY COMPLAINTS "UNJUSTIFIED"

Refugees' Hardships Said Confined to Grumblers

Hongkong, Aug. 31.

Surprise has been caused here by reports from Shanghai that British women refugees in Hongkong, dissatisfied with their living conditions in the Colony, have written to their husbands asking for arrangements to be made for their return to Shanghai, war or no war. They are alleged to have complained bitterly of "exorbitant" charges for accommodation at the Jockey Club.

The complaints are stated here to be unjustified, and are said to have come from only a few disgruntled persons.

With thousands of refugees arriving, and with only a part of them able to find accommodation with friends, temporary quarters had to be provided at the Jockey Club, schools and elsewhere.

Signing for Tariff

All putting up at such premises were requested to sign a form saying they would pay $5 a day in the case of adults, and $3 a day for children, although it was emphasized that actual payment was expected only from those who could afford it. The destitute, it was made known, would be accommodated free.

With such short notice and such large numbers, it was only natural, it is contended, that the arrangements were "not exactly Ritzy," but "fair-minded refugees recognized the situation and only grumblers complained."

Occupants of the Race Club are now gradually finding accommodation elsewhere as the situation readjusts itself.—Reuter.

PARACHUTE FLARES ARE DROPPED DOWNTOWN

An unidentified plane dropped several parachute flares over the northern part of the International Settlement between 11 p.m. and midnight last night. No anti-aircraft guns were fired at the plane, which cruised leisurely over the Settlement and could be heard plainly in the downtown area. A few tracer bullets were fired in the northern district at the same time, from west to east. Flashes from big guns in the vicinity of Woosung were visible from central district roofs last night.

Just before noon yesterday H.M.S. Grimsby tied up on the Pootung side opposite the French Bund.

GENERALISSIMO CALLS AID OF GREAT POWERS

Treaty Signatories Have Full Responsibility

CHINA DETERMINED

Nation Truly United to Resist Aggressor

The necessity of international intervention in the present undeclared Sino-Japanese war was stressed by General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan and Commander-in-Chief of the Chinese forces, in an exclusive interview with a special Reuter correspondent who made the journey to and from Nanking in trains liable at any time to attack.

"Intervention is necessary not solely for China's sake but for international safety," the Generalissimo declared.

"If the nations recognize the menace of the aggression now proceeding and wish to prevent its consequences descending upon the whole world, directly or indirectly, they should take whatever action they judge best suited to avert it," he added, and speaking firmly, continued:

"The simple truth is that Japan took action with the object of crushing China and establishing for herself a Continental empire, and the significance of that needs no emphasis."

The Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-shek are busily occupied frequently from eighteen to twenty hours daily, and while the interview was to have been for five minutes it continued for almost 45, the Generalissimo himself asking various questions.

"Several Results"

The Generalissimo was asked to state what had been the net military or political result of the conflict so far.

He replied, "There have been several results. One is the unified rallying of the people of China to defend themselves against a ruthless foe who disregards all canons of international law and all sense of human decency in invading China on a pretext and destroying the lives and property of non-combatants whether they be Chinese or Foreign.

"A second result is the apparent acceptance by the Powers of the displacement of international law and the substitution of a system of 'incident-making' which is used as justification for 'chastising' a country by invading it, occupying it, and annexing parts of it. That is what happened in Manchuria; and that is what is intended now.

"A third result is the revelation of the systematic intention of Japan to devastate the important seaports of China so that commerce will be ruined and foreign interests driven from the Continent. They were driven from Korea; they were driven from Manchuria.

"A fourth result is the proof to Japan that strong though she may be in equipment and organization and weak though China may be China still refuses longer to submit to the treatment that Japan has been accustomed to accord her and she will resist all violation of her sovereignty.

Destroying Own Business

"A fifth result is that Japan is steadily wiping out her own investments in this country and is just as surely destroying her own commercial opportunities in a land where wise and statesmanlike and courteous treatment would without question have given her almost a monopoly of trade as well as the high respect of the great population of China. Instead of admiration she has rooted hatred and distrust deeply in the Chinese heart and mind. What other lessons the undeclared war will teach only time can tell."

China's Terms

The Generalissimo was asked upon what terms China would consent at this time to terminate hostilities.

"That question," he replied "can only be answered when Japan decides to withdraw from the impossible position in which she finds herself vis-a-vis China and the world. China must secure and protect her sovereign rights, and her administrative and territorial integrity."

The Generalissimo was then asked if he was prepared to state that if through any circumstances Japan should gain the advantage in this undeclared war, would a war be inevitable between Japan and one or more of the so-called Western Powers. He replied:

"Whether other Powers are content to see China destroyed and come under the domination of Japan it is impossible for me to say. China happens to be fighting with inadequate equipment not only her own battle but the battle of all those nations who base their lives upon the sanctity and validity of treaties, and especially those whose large commercial interests in China are being systematically destroyed and their representatives driven away.

"It is not difficult to prophesy what will happen to the trade of foreign nations if Japan should defeat our forces and secure domination over this country, nor does it require special prescience to estimate what will happen politically. There have been such remarkable changes in international viewpoints since September 18, 1931, that it is impossible now to say what any nation will or will not do. I firmly believe China will not be defeated if Japan continues her aggression. Whatever the result, China will defend her country to the bitter end."

Powers' Attitude

The Generalissimo was then asked about the attitude or actions of the foreign Powers in the present situation in Shanghai.

"The immediate and future action of the foreign Powers in the present situation in the vicinity of Shanghai is obvious," said the Generalissimo. "But the question of intervention rests with the Powers who created the Nine Power Treaty and the Kellogg Peace Pact, and who organized the League of Nations with its Covenant.

"Unquestionably there is a distinct responsibility resting upon the shoulders of someone to take steps to prevent utter ruination coming to China and the possibilities for carrying on of legitimate trade. Destroyed seaports benefit no one and the seaports are being and will be destroyed by the invaders."—Reuter.

BROWN BOMBER BEATS TOMMY FARR ON POINTS

Crowd Cheers Farr Through Magnificent Battle: Takes Verdict Badly: Louis' Hardest Fight

New York, Aug. 30.

JOE Louis, the "Brown Bomber" of Detroit, to-night beat back the first attack on the world's heavyweight title which he won from Jim Braddock, by defeating Tommy Farr of Great Britain in fifteen rounds on a points verdict.

The decision which gave the negro the victory, however, was decidedly unpopular and was greeted by boos from the crowd,—a crowd which fell far short of the huge numbers predicted before the bout.

Farr, British and Empire champion, gave Louis the most amazing battle of the latter's career with the exception of the knockout which Max Schmeling administered before Louis became champion.

The trend of the battle see-sawed throughout the fifteen rounds. Farr frequently assumed a lead by becoming the aggressor, only to see Louis recover and assume a similar lead.

Crowd in an Uproar

Announcement of the decision, made by the judges after a short consultation, put the crowd in an uproar, as a majority of the fans, believing that Farr had earned at least a draw if not an outright decision, expressed their displeasure at the verdict.

Financially the fight was one of the biggest "flops" in the history of heavyweight title contests. When the preliminary bouts were half completed, it was estimated that only 25,000 persons were in attendance, and rows of seats were empty. Prior to the opening gong Mike Jacobs, the promoter, had predicted a turn-out of 35,000 persons. The previous postponement, which he believed would increase the game receipts, apparently had the opposite effect.

Louis weighed in at 197 lbs. and Farr at 204½ lb. With clouds again gathering before the time of the fight, Jacobs announced that only a cloudburst would cause another postponement. The spectators, however, were spared even a drop of rain.

As the battle opened the amount of betting was extremely small. Odds ranged from 4 to 1 to 10 to 1 on Louis, but most of the wagering was based on the round in which Louis would win, rather than on the outcome.

Pipe-Opener To Farr

As the fighters came together in the opening round Louis sparred at long range, which Farr terminated by throwing two stiff jabs into Louis' face, reddening the negro's nose. Farr continued to resort to left jabs which appeared to bother Louis. Farr then landed a fast left and right to the body, driving Louis to the ropes. The "Brown Bomber" appeared clumsy. It was Farr's round by a wide margin.

Second Round—Both fighters showed caution. Farr circled Louis and landed a left and right to the face, making Louis blink. Louis jabbed three times to Farr's face and the British battler countered with a body attack. Farr's round.

Third Round.—Farr flicked a left to Louis' nose and overlooped a right to the head. Farr landed another right to the law. Louis recovered and with piston-like left jabs working soon had Farr bleeding under both eyes. Farr staggered slightly as he went to his corner. Louis' round.

Farr's Wound Re-opened

Seventh Round.—Farr led with a left to the stomach and a left to the body and chin. Louis crossed a right to the jaw and landed three lefts to the face. Farr's left eye was bleeding and his face was crimson but he fought savagely and landed a hard right to the chin as the bell sounded. Louis' round.

Farr on Top

Ninth Round.—Louis' right cheek and jaw were swollen, and he retreated from Farr's lefts to the body. Louis took a right to the jaw but Farr's face was also gory. Farr ripped two sharp left hooks to Louis' right eye, which was swelling and beginning to close. Farr beginning to close in, was carrying the battle and forcing Louis to break ground. Farr's round.

Eleventh Round.—Farr fighting with both fists forced Louis to the ropes again, crossed a hard right to the jaw and made Louis wince. The crowd cheered Farr. Louis was extremely tired and sank to his stool as the round ended. Farr's round.

Both Tiring

Thirteenth Round.—Both men were tired. Louis again bloodied Farr's nose, but Farr drove a right to the chin and backed Louis to the ropes. Louis landed two lefts, but his refusal to use his right made the crowd wonder whether it was hurt. Louis' round.

The Bomber Attacks

Fourteenth Round.—Both men sparred cautiously. Farr landed a right to the jaw. Louis' right eye was greatly swollen. Louis landed a hard right to Farr's jaw. Farr was extremely tired and Louis peppered lefts to his face. Farr was leg-weary. Louis' round.

Fifteenth Round.—Farr landed a left and right to the head and took a left to the chin. Both men were tired and their punches not precise. Farr rushed lefts and rights to the face. Louis' left bloodied Farr's nose again. Farr rushed lefts and rights to the face, and drove rights to Louis' face which caused blood to flow freely. The crowd was on its feet, shouting "Farr, Farr, Farr" as the bell sounded to end the bout. Farr's round.

Tribute To Briton

Dan Morgan, veteran fight manager, said that Farr was the least nervous of any heavyweight challenger he had ever seen. Prior to the main event, Farr was forced to wait twenty minutes in the press section while the preliminaries were finished, because of a mistake in timing, but he showed no nervousness.

Louis' optimism proved unfounded. Just before the action began he said, "I feel swell, I don't think it will take me fifteen rounds to win."—United Press.

Many ringside observers believed that Farr had won, fighting through a mantle of his own blood as he belted the right side of Louis' face, almost closing the champion's right eye.

In the dressing room following the fight it was discovered that Louis had suffered a contusion of a knuckle on his left hand which made it impossible for him to let loose with his knockout jabs. His right hand also was badly swollen.

The condition of Louis' hands definitely cancels all chances for a re-match between Louis and Max Schmeling of Germany in October.

Farr also suffered damage to his hands, spraining the third finger of his right hand in the third round.

"I fooled the American writers," Farr said following the fight. "Farr's a set-up!.. haw!"—United Press.

REFEREE AND JUDGES UNANIMOUS

New York, Aug. 30.

Farr's indomitable spirit won him the sympathy of the crowd, which cheered madly and unprecedentedly for him throughout the bout. The fans booed thunderously for four full minutes when Referee Art Donovan held up Louis's arm in token of victory.

The referee and judges, however, were unanimous.—Reuter.

1937 COUNTY TITLE TO YORKSHIRE

Championship Clinched With Defeat of Hants

SURREY BLIGHTS HOPES OF MIDDLESEX

London, Aug. 31.

Scoring an overwhelming victory over Hampshire in their last match of the season, Yorkshire to-day won the County Cricket Championship.

This is the nineteenth time that Yorkshire, which finished third last season, have won the title. They had a great struggle against Middlesex before emerging victorious.

In view of the close and exciting fight for honours between the two counties, a challenge four-day match will be played at the Oval beginning September 11.

All profits will be devoted to charities.

The match was suggested by Robins, the Middlesex captain, and agreed to by the Yorkshire County Committee.

In the four first-class matches which concluded to-day Essex beat Worcester by an innings and 10 runs; Kent defeated Derby by 100 runs; New Zealand beat Sussex by an innings and 232; and Yorkshire beat Hampshire by 10 wickets.

Wilcox, the skipper of Essex, made the highest score in the four matches, knocking up a flawless 142 against Worcester. The best round performance was given by George Pope of Derby, who took five wickets for 35 and scored 88 not out, but his effort failed to save last year's champions from defeat. Scores:—

At BOURNEMOUTH.—Yorkshire defeated Hampshire by 10 wickets. Hampshire 53 (Bowes six for 36) and 185; Yorkshire 141 (Heath five for 66) and 88 without loss.

At HOVE.—New Zealand beat Sussex by innings and 232. Sussex 151 and 163 (Jas. Langridge 91 not out); New Zealanders 546 (Donnelly 83, Roberts 92, Moloney 75, Wallace 111).

At CLACTON.—Essex beat Worcester by an innings and 232. Sussex 151 and 171 (Nichols five for 51) and 173 (Farnes five for 51); Essex 354 (Wilcox 142).

At FOLKESTONE.—Kent beat Derbyshire by 100 runs. Kent 294 (Ames 108) and 125 (George Pope five for 35); Derby 154 (George Pope 88 not out) and 165. Reuter.

Crisis Not to Affect Olympiad

Tokyo, Aug. 31.

Hostilities in China and the subsequent strain upon the economic resources of the nation will not be allowed to affect the staging of the Olympic Games in Tokyo in 1940. Decision to this effect was reached to-day at a meeting between the Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, and Mr. Eiji Yasui, Minister of Education.—Domei.

GERMANS BEAT BUDGE MAKO TEAM

Brilliant Win in American Doubles Championship

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 30.

Baron von Cramm and Henner Henkel, the German Davis Cup pair, brought off one of the greatest tennis upsets of the season to-day by defeating Donald Budge and Gene Mako, the hitherto unbeatable American combination, to win the American doubles championship.

The Germans, who showed perfect understanding, triumphed in straight sets: 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

In the all-American final of the women's doubles, Miss Alice Marble and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan beat Miss Caroline Babcock and Mrs. Van Ryn after a hard-fought struggle by 7-5, 6-4.

Miss Marble and Miss Fabyan had the upper hand throughout against the holders, who lost their final chance in the second set, when, with the score 4-4, they failed to take Miss Marble's service after four deuces.—Reuter.
